

IMPRINT

Impacting Research Innovation & Technology

Government of India, through MHRD, has launched a major national initiative, called IMPRINT India (IMPacting Research, INnovation, Technology for India) and has identified ten important technology domains for the nation. The objective of this flagship initiative is to identify the needs of the country in terms of its research and technology requirements so as to enable proper planning for manpower, research infrastructure and resources in ten domains of national interest. The outcome of this exercise would be policy documents on education and research.

In order to ensure success of this grand national initiative through crowd sourcing, it is decided to hold an National Logo Competition among the engineering and science students studying in IISc, IITs, IISERs, NITs and any other Centrally funded Institutions with the objectives and guidelines as enumerated below:
